THE NEWS.

The Socialist-Labor party has nominated a State ticket in Missouri.

Judge W. J. Gaynor has declined the Democratic nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals of New York.

Senator Gorman's friends say he is suffering from Bright's disease, and has accepted his physician's advice to refrain from active political work.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Chicago has retained counsel to begin a crusade against the exhibition of "living pictures," and against objectionable theatrical billboards.

The Czar's condition is so serious that the end is expected in a few weeks. His ailment is now called cancer of the kidneys, and public rumor says he is suffering from excessive blood letting at the hands of his physician.

The weekly reviews of trade by the Dunt and Bradstreet agencies show that while no radical change appeared during the past week the indications point to continued progress in the direction of improvement. From several points in the South the reports are very encouraging.

The Democratic State Executive Committee of Ohio has issued an address asserting that the tariff fight has been won, and that the silver question is at present the question of greatest importance, and setting forth arguments in favor of the free coinage of silver.

The damage to seafaring craft, by the West India hurricane was greater than at first reported. Every day new wrecks are discovered. Six seamen are known to have been drowned off Key West, and two ships sunk. Disabled vessels are daily being towed into the Atlantic ports. The banana crop in Cuba was almost entirely destroyed by the storm.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 5.—Fire at 7:45 a. m., completely gutted Keenan & Jan's furniture store at Nos. 213, 215, and 217 Woodward avenue, entailing a loss of $60,000 on stock and $25,000 on the building. The flames started in the boiler room and shot up the elevator shaft obtaining such a headway that the firemen were unable to save any portion of the building or contents. At 9:15 the front wall of the building fell out, and six men were killed and ten injured, all but two being firemen.

London, Oct. 5.—The Daily News announces that Vice Admiral Fremantle, commanding the British fleet in Chinese waters, has been instructed by telegraph to draw such reinforcements as he requires from the nearest available British fleet. The vacancies thus caused will be filled by vessels from distant squadrons or the home station. It is reported that the other powers have agreed to strengthen their squadrons in Chinese waters the same as Great Britain strengthens hers.

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 4.—Gen. F. M. Clarke, formerly of the United States Volunteers, for two years Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, left tonight for New York to consult Col. Fred Grant, his partner, in a deal with the Chinese government. Gen. Clark, today received a check from the Chinese government for $5,000 to pay his expenses. He has discovered an explosive to be used in torpedoes which is his exclusive secret. He and Grant are to get one million dollars for the sole right to use the explosive by the Chinese. Clark $600,000 and Grant $400,000. He will be in New York Monday.

HILL ACCEPTS.

Will Make The Third Race For Governor of New York.

Could Not Refuse to Serve The Party That Has Honored Him.

New York, Oct. 6.—Senator Hill today accepted the Democratic nomination for Governor and will enter the canvass determined to win. The Democrats lost no time in completing their State ticket, and they are now ready for the campaign. The State Committee, which was authorized to fill any vacancy on the ticket, this afternoon nominated Judge Charles F. Brown, of Newburgh, for Judge of the Court of Appeals, in place of W. J. Gaynor.

Senator Hill and Representative Lockwood were then formally notified of their nominations for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, respectively, at the party headquarters. All the members of the notification committee of the State committee and many distinguished Democrats were present. Maj. Hinkley, chairman of the State committee, introduced Hon. Bourke Cochran, who made an appropriate speech to the two candidates. Addressing Mr. Hill he said:

"This is a time when every man in our ranks must come to the front. As in time of war the women and children manned the ramparts, now the Democrats of the State demand that you shall lead once more to success that Democratic party of which you are a member and which stands now upon the same principle that it has represented for the past one hundred years. We appeal to you to come forward and lead us now in our hour of difficulty and danger. You lead us in our hour of victory. We ask you to lead us once more, and inspire the enthusiasm which has before led us to victory before the first blow has been struck."

Senator Hill, in accepting the nomination, said:

Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the Committee: For the courteous manner in which you have notified me of the recent action of the Democratic convention I can only express my sincere thanks. It is unnecessary for me to reiterate to you who were present at that gathering, that the nomination was as unexpected by me as it was unsought and undesired.

Seven of the best years of my life were devoted to the service of the State in the discharge of the high and responsible duties of the great office of its chief executive, and I had never expected or intended to resume its tremendous burdens. While keenly appreciating the high honor conferred by being nominated for a third time by one party for so important a position, yet I can not but feel that personally I have everything to lose and nothing to gain by the contest to which you summon me. The gubernatorial office has no longer any attractions for me, and personally I preferred to remain in the Senate, where the duties were gradually becoming more congenial to my tastes and where I believed I could more acceptably serve the interests of the great State.

But personal considerations must have no weight where public duty is concerned. The Democratic party, especially in this State, is confronted with a great crisis, which substantially involves its existence as a political organization. Our opponents, taking advantage of their temporary and accidental supremacy in the Legislature and in the Constitutional Convention, are seeking to pass upon the people of the State a system of apportionment which virtually gives the Republicans control of the legislative department of the State for twenty years to come—a system based upon territorial area rather than population, founded upon injustice and inequality, and designed to enable the minority rather than the majority of the people to control the State. The very life of our party is at stake. Besides, the control of the next House of Representatives may depend upon the election here.

The Democratic convention having against my protest selected me to lead in such a crisis, and although I exceedingly regret that my advice was not adopted in regard to representation in the convention itself, and while I have sought during the past week, as personal and political friends well know, not only to heal and harmonize political and factional differences, but to secure some other candidate wholly acceptable to every one to assume my place in this great struggle, in whose favor I would gladly retire, but which has not proved feasible, and recollecting that the Democratic party of this State has honored me in the past when I solicited its favors, in the days of its sunshine and prosperity, I can not desert it now in the hour of its danger, and in this great emergency.

It is a time when personal sacrifices are demanded, when individual preferences must be subordinated to the general good, and when there must be exhibited a lofty patriotism. If we win this contest it will be the party's victory, not mine; if we lose it will be the party's defeat, which will be involved in my own. Personally I am largely indifferent to the consequences of the struggle. A duty confronts me and I shall perform it as God gives me the light to see it, let the result be what it may.

I shall confidently appeal to the plain people of the State, who have always sustained me in the past when I have espoused their cause. I shall present to them the issue of Democracy against plutocracy; the issue of "no taxation except for public purposes," the issue being the issue of opposition to the centralization of all powers in the general government; the issue of personal liberty against religious intolerance, the issue of good government, liberal and just excise laws, economy in public expenditure, the promotion of the dignity of labor, and protection for its rights, municipal home rule and the uprooting of corruption, and the correction of abuses everywhere, whether in Republican or Democratic localities.

Gentlemen, I accept the nomination which you, in behalf of the Democratic party of New York have tendered me, and relying upon the undoubted courage of the Democratic masses, their fortitude under adverse circumstances, their loyalty to their principles, which truly represent the people's cause, I enter upon this contest with the determination that no honorable effort on my part shall be spared to achieve success, and with the confidence which is an earnest of assured victory.

Representative Lockwood also spoke briefly. He intimated that the support of the Administration at Washington could be depended upon.

POPULISTS CHARGE FRAUD.

Democratic Majority for Governor in Georgia 26,000.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 6.—The consolidated vote of last Wednesday's election shows Atkinson's majority for Governor to be 26,000. The rest of the State ticket got over 30,000 majority. The Democrats will have a majority of 125 in the House and 37 in the Senate. Contests have been filed by the Populists in five counties. They complain of fraud and the Democrats charge that the Populists repeated in several counties.

OLD TIME REMINISCENCES

How the Mormon Leader, Joseph Smith, Once Voted Against Stephen A. Douglas.

Of all the most successful and permanent new-fangled religions that were ever "conceived in sin and brought forth in iniquity" that of Mormonism heads the procession. Starting in the muddled brain of Joe Smith, an idle, shiftless vagabond then residing in a little New York village, it has spread over the whole civilized world, and has emissaries and proselytes in all quarters of the globe. In this country it has founded a great State, Utah, and so potent is its power that the political complexion of the next Senate of the United States may be decided by their votes, and for ten years they have held the balance of power, politically, in the Territory of Arizona. The Mormon hatred of Republicanism on account of the passage of the Edmunds Act, which was passed by that party, may be the sheet-anchor that will save both Utah and Arizona to the Democrats.

From the time of the first organization of the Mormon church at Kirtland, Ohio, by Joe Smith and Sidney Rigdon, to its removal to Independence, Mo., thence to Nauvoo, Ills., and finally to Salt Lake City, it has been under the complete control of shrewd and unscrupulous men, who sought power at the expense of all which should be held most sacred.

At Nauvoo, Ills., these people selected one of the most beautiful building sites in the State and built there a city of twenty-five thousand inhabitants, overlooked by a temple which for beauty of design and elegance or architecture was without a rival. And here, and on the adjoining farms of Hancock county, Joe Smith gathered some fifty thousand followers. Among these were about fifteen thousand voters, and Joe Smith controlled every one of those votes as relentlessly as the Czar of Russia controls his subjects.

Back in the early forties the Whig and Democratic parties of Illinois were so evenly divided that the Mormons held the balance of power. Both the parties courted Joe Smith, and the Legislatures lavished upon him all the special privileges that he asked for, including the arming and equipping of a large body of men called the "Nauvoo Legion." In those days Stephen A. Douglas represented the Quincy district in Congress, Nauvoo being in this district, and he was then just entering upon that brilliant political career which ended only with his untimely death.

In 1844 an exciting political campaign opened, and Douglas was a candidate for re-election. His Whig opponent was a pompous old lawyer of Macomb named Streator. Of course both candidates at once began coqueting with Joe Smith. Finally, for a handsome "consideration" Smith promised his vote to Streator, who of course thought this meant the entire Mormon vote, and he went home satisfied of his election. But unfortunately his vaulting ambition overleaped itself and fell on "other side." Douglas and Smith had always been good friends, and he saw Joe after his interview with Streator. The day before the election Smith called all his followers around him and thus addressed them:

"At the election tomorrow I have promised my vote to Mr. Streator, and I intend to vote for him; but brother Hyrum has something he wishes to say to you."

Hyrum then mounted the stand and said:

"Brethren, it has been revealed to me that we all vote the Democratic ticket tomorrow; for thus saith the Lord God."

This was probably the shortest political speech on record, but it was effective. When the ballots were counted next day Streator had one vote and Douglass all the others. But this treachery on the part of Smith was the initial cause of his downfall and subsequent death. The people became both alarmed and enraged at the tremendous power held in the hands of one man, and sought pretexts of quarrel with the Mormons which culminated in the murder by a mob of Joseph and Hyrum Smith in Carthage jail and the exodus of their followers to Utah.

During the heated Lincoln and Douglass campaign of 1857, when these intellectual giants were stamping Illinois as candidates for the United States Senate, I was detached from the reporter staff of the Rock Island Register and sent to Nauvoo to edit a Douglass campaign paper called the Nauvoo Democratic Press. Douglass defeated Lincoln for the Senate by six majority on joint ballot in the Legislature, and this defeat made Abe Lincoln President of the United States.

At the time I lived in Nauvoo its population did not exceed five hundred, and there were hundreds of very handsome residences utterly deserted. It was a perfect fac simile of Goldsmith's "Deserted Village." I boarded with Joe Smith's widow, who was then married to a Major Bidamon and was keeping the same hotel that Joe had used to keep the old Mansion house under the hill. She was a kind, motherly old soul, and was Smith's only wife; for although Joe Smith established polygamy as a part of his religion, neither he nor either of his three sons, young Joe, Aleck or Hyrum ever practiced it.

Large numbers of Mormons are now settled in the Salt River Valley of Arizona, around Tempe and Mesa City, and they are among the best and most thrifty citizens of the Territory. They still vote as a unit, however, and when Utah and Arizona are admitted as States the Mormons will hold the balance of power, politically speaking.

AMERICAN CATTLE.

They Would Bring Higher Prices in Switzerland Than They Do Here.

Washington, Oct. 4.—In a special report to the Department of State, United States consul Kemler, at Horgen, Switzerland, calls attention to the excellent opportunity afforded American cattle growers by the high price of meat in the Swiss market. Beef cattle sold in September at 80 to 90 francs per quintal live weight, 7 to 8 cents per pound; hogs at $1 to $1.50 live weight per kilo (8 1/2 cents to 9 1/2 cents per pound); sheep, dressed, $1.80 to $1.50 per kilo, or 12 cents to 13 cents; fat calves $1 to $1.20 per kilo, live weight, or 8 cents to 10 cents per pound; young calves are specially in demand; 60 cents for replenishing the stock sold off last year on account of the failure of the corn crop.

The consul calls attention to the offer of Kirsh and the Handelsgesellschaft Zeitung, a reputable company, to furnish the cattle from the United States to Switzerland. The Marquis de Lafayette. I asked a number of people before I could find any one to enlighten me as to the spot, but after repeated inquiry ascertained its location. The grave is situated in old Paris, within the grounds of a convent which the ancestors of Lafayette had founded, and where repose the ashes of many of the French nobility.

The first thing that attracted my attention in connection with the her's tomb was that above it floats a silken flag, bearing the Stars and Stripes. It seems that a good many years ago an American gentleman left in his will a sum of money to be used for the special purpose of keeping an American flag forever flying above the grave of Lafayette. It has done without intermission from the day the will went into effect, and whenever through the wear of the elements the flag becomes unserviceable, a new one takes its place. Through untold centuries the emblem of the country in its early struggles for liberty had his constant aid will wave above his ashes.

Many of the citizens of Rainsville Indiana are never without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, says Jacob Brown, the leading merchant in the place. This Remedy has proven of so much value for colds and cough in children than few mothers who know its worth are willing to be without it. For sale by Moore & Orme.

AULD LANG SYNE.

After an Absence of Forty Years He Loves Us Still.

BENTONVILLE, ARK., Oct. 3, 1894.

ED. PRESS: I herewith send you one dollar with which to pay for the PRESS one year. Your mammoth issue was simply immense. You and your staff of correspondents have furnished your readers with an excellent paper, for which we should feel most thankful.

You have given us a minute history of every occurrence except the particulars concerning the only legal execution that ever occurred in your county. I left the county very soon after that occurrence, and have forgotten everything except the execution.

I left Marion just forty years ago, when we might say the town was in a pantalolet state. I would be glad to see the old lady in long dress. When I left the town the merchants were J. N. Woods, Wilson & Armstrong, A. Levy and C. C. Bigham. The county clerk was Berry S. Young, R. G. Stewart circuit clerk, and M. B. Haynes was sheriff, with J. H. Walker as deputy. Most of the men I have mentioned have long since joined the great majority on the other side of the river, and we are resting under the shade of a

I have very great love for my native county and state, but the most lovely spot on earth to me is the log house about four miles north from Marion where I was born. It is now owned and occupied by my sister, Mrs. Emily S. Vaughn. It was there where the happy, happy hours of childhood glided swiftly and sweetly away. Of all my boyhood playmates, I know of but two now living. They are your worthy farmers Wm. Fowler and George W. Howerton.

You have two worthy women living in your city with whom I attended school from 1848 to 1853. They are Mrs. Carrie Crow and Mrs. Doc Gilbert, and they are the daughters of two of the best people your county ever produced, James M. Fowler and wife. In my boyhood and young manhood I always went to J. M. Fowler and W. C. Carnahan for sympathy and advice, and they never refused it. It was W. C. Carnahan and C. C. Bigham who gave me my first lesson in business, and I entertain for them a parental affection.

Hoping you and the PRESS may live long to battle for your town, county and Grover Cleveland, I am,

Very truly, etc.,

ISSUED WEEKLY.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

ONE YEAR ONE DOLLAR

The nomination of Grace gives entire satisfaction over the entire district.

It was not Yeaman, nor Bishop nor White that said, "we are saved by Grace."

Hon. Wm. L. Wilson, has returned from England and is warming up the canvass for congress in his district.

Senator Hill will open the campaign in Syracuse this evening, and the fight in New York will be short and spirited.

Frankfort has been in the midst of a religious revival, the result of which is 324 additions to the various churches of that little city.

Something like a dozen men will want to succeed Judge Grace as circuit judge of the district composed of Christian, Trigg, Lyon and Calloway counties.

Mr. Chittwood will be on the Republican ticket for congress. Over 600 loyal Republicans have a petition asking for this, and the law requires only 400.

The Owensboro Messenger is of the opinion that the Daviess county fair is on the decline. County fairs in Western Kentucky are not as a rule successful institutions.

Still they return from the west to Crittenden county. With an occasional mob Crittenden is better than howling Kansas, and the heathen Chinee of California.

Paducah has been arresting and fining some of her citizens for gambling. If all of the boys who play poker in Kentucky were fined $20 each this State could pay off those Louisiana sugar planters, and restore peace to the world.

The schools all report a full attendance, and a progressive spirit. Our Superintendent is visiting these wonderful public blessings, and will through the columns of the Press offer some suggestions and criticisms relative to them.

The New York State Constitutional Convention was governed in many important matters by party caucuses. Broad statesmanship is a scarce article. Self, selfish, selfishness is the way to decline, conjugate, or compare all things now a days.

A Lexington letter to a Cincinnati paper says Breckinridge's friends are urging him for United States Senator. If Breckinridge has got any thoughtful friends they are urging him to keep the back seat recently provided for him by the people of his district.

Blackwell seems to have disappeared from Union county, but according to the Enterprise, Goode is in that county armed cap-a-pie. We are not inclined to the opinion that the condition of affairs in Union have improved, but Crittenden feels easier.

The numerous successful religious revivals this fall ought to make Crittenden a better county. Many forces contribute to the moral well being of a people, but the pure undefiled gospel of the lowly Nazarene does more than all other powers combined.

An independent Democratic candidate for Governor of New York has been nominated by the Mugwump element. The regular Democrats claim this will be of advantage to them, as the Mugwumps will vote for the independent instead of the Republican candidate.

The Supreme Court of South Carolina has reversed its decision on the dispensary law, and now the law is declared constitutional and Gov. Tillman can send out his constables. Constitutions now adays are interpreted according to the desires of those who are chosen to execute the laws. Constitutions are about as enduring as good resolutions.

Hill has shouldered a big job in New York, and his apparent sacrifice in this matter, at present, will go a long way towards mitigating his sin in the Senate in fighting the income tax. Let us all hope that Benjamin will overcome the high priests of Levi. Any good Democrat can do this, because the road to the White House does not necessarily lead through New York any more. It is going to be a Western man next time.

Of course we have no road tax in this county, and a proposition to work the road by taxation would be snowed under by a mighty majority of ballots, but all the same the roads are to a great extent worked by taxation. The road tools are purchased and paid for by tax, the ever enduring claim for plow and team for public road work is paid out of the twenty-five cents advalorem tax. Thus the public roads of the county are worked, to a large extent by taxation, but it is not called taxation, hence we are all happy. Call it taxation and there would be a row in the camp.

GRACE WINS.

The Trigg County Man Beats Them All Collectively and Singly.

The Appellate Court District Convention convened in Princeton on the 5th, and was organized with Judge Robbins, of Mayfield, as Chairman, and Mr. C. M. Meacham, of Hopkinsville, as secretary.

The candidates were each placed in nomination, and the balloting began. The first ballot was Grace 50, White 34, Yeaman 28, Bishop 19. Twenty-four ballots were taken with that result, and the convention adjourned until Saturday.

When the convention assembled at 9:40 o'clock Saturday morning, it was evident that every effort was being made by the combined forces of the opposition to defeat Grace. The first ballot showed up the same old score as the evening before—50, 34, 28, 19. The next six ballots were just the same. After this the opposition to Grace began to compliment other prominent men present with votes. Various men were voted for, but Grace's 50 stayed with him like a stone wall, until the 29th ballot, when an adjournment was had until 1:30.

Between this adjournment and the afternoon session there was caucusing, caucusing and caucusing. Yeaman's friends said White and Bishop must come to him, he was the man to defeat Grace; White said he was the man, and Bishop's friends said he was the only man who could defeat Grace. No combination could be made, however, that would carry with it enough votes to accomplish the downfall of Grace. He had friends in all of the delegations.

After the first ballot of the afternoon session, Judge Vance, of Henderson, offered a resolution providing that after three ballots the hindmost candidate be dropped. It was so amended that a dropped candidate could be re-nominated.

The ninety-first ballot stood, Grace 55, White 39, Yeaman 37.

Ninety-second ballot—Grace 55, White 41, Yeaman 35.

Ninety-fourth ballot—Grace 55, White 39, Yeaman 37.

The name of Mr. Yeaman was dropped and Judge Bishop was re-nominated.

Ninety-fifth ballot—Grace 55, White 35, Bishop 41.

Ninety-eighth ballot—Grace 55, White 35, Bishop 41.

The name of Judge White was dropped. Mr. Yeaman was re-nominated.

Ninety-ninth ballot—Grace 52, Bishop 54, Yeaman 55.

One hundred and second ballot—Grace 51, Bishop 45, Yeaman 36.

The name of Mr. Yeaman was dropped and Judge White re-nominated.

One hundred and fourth ballot—Grace 60, Bishop 51, White 35.

Judge W. M. Reed offered the following resolution:

RESOLVED, That no candidate shall be declared the choice of this convention until he shall have successfully and successfully defeated every other candidate.

This brought out a hot discussion between its advocates and the Grace men who denounce it as almost unprecedented and a "cut-throat" measure. It would have passed, however, if under a ruling of the chair it had not been deferred until the balloting then in progress under the former resolutions should have been curtailed until the hindmost candidate should again be dropped. Anticipating its passage the anti-Bishop men prepared to strike a telling blow.

On the 106th ballot Grace received 66 votes, and before the secretary could announce the result the Grace people knew their man had received the nomination and began wild demonstrations. The nomination was made unanimous and Judge Grace introduced to the convention. He addressed the audience and was followed by Mr. Yeaman in a short complimentary speech.

The other candidates followed Mr. Yeaman, all uniting in pledging themselves to support the nominee. On motion the convention then adjourned.

Judge John R. Grace.

[Courier-Journal.]

While the field in the race for appellate judge in the First district was an exceptionally good one, made up of four splendid lawyers, the convention evidently made no mistake when it decided upon Judge John R. Grace as the proper one to honor with a seat upon the supreme bench. During the years he has been presiding over the circuit court of his district, Judge Grace has made a record second to that of no jurist in Kentucky, and the records in the office of the court of appeals bear out the assertion that he has been reversed less than any other judge in Kentucky. That, too, in the face of the fact that among the lawyers who have practiced before him are some of the shrewdest and ablest in the state, were quick to detect errors in the record, and possessed of ample knowledge to have them corrected.

Not only is Judge Grace an excellent judge, but he is a splendid man in every way and number among his friends almost every man with whom he has come in contact. Amiable and lovable in his disposition and manners, he nevertheless has all the firmness required for so high a position, and is fully alive to the dignity and responsibility of the position. One of his greatest traits is his pliancy and simplicity, and a more approachable man can not be found anywhere. In addition to his knowledge of the law, he has a most profound sense of justice and right, which after all, is the greatest of qualities in a judge, and a more scrupulously honest or conscientious man does not live. His friends expect great things of him in the supreme bench, and it goes without saying that he will not disappoint them.

CLAIMS $25,000 DAMAGES.

H. Sheldon Jarvis Sues Tobacco Firms of Princeton and Frederica.

H. Sheldon Jarvis, of Owensesboro, has filed suit in the United States court here against W. C. Rice & Co., of Frederica, Ky., and J. W. Stegar & Co., of Princeton, Ky., alleging breach and violation of contract by them and $25,000 damages, with interest from September, 30, 1892.

The petition alleges that the parties sold him all of the crop of tobacco of 1892 owned by them, and stored in divers factories throughout the Green river country, which crop was estimated to be 2,700,000 to 2,900,000 pounds, which the two firms agreed to stem and prize in proper order and condition for shipment to the English market, and Jarvis agreed to pay therefore 11 cents per pound for the strips on presentation of bills of lading.

Sixteen hundred and one bushels of 199,771 pounds, under the contract were shipped and $219,784.55 was paid by Jarvis to defendants before the tobacco reached England.

The petition avers that the tobacco thus shipped did not come up to that contracted for, but, on the contrary, was mixed with bulk-heated, mouldy and unsound tobacco and a considerable part of it was "small" and "sweeping" and had been carelessly handled and prized. In short, it was much damaged and inferior and was not worth as much on the English market as the tobacco contracted for by $25,000. The suit was brought by Mr. J. G. Taylor, of Owensesboro, Mr. Jarvis' attorney.

HUNG BY A MOB.

A Negro at Irving, Ky., Hung for Murder.

Irvine, Dep't, Ky., Oct. 9.—Last night at 11:30 o'clock a mob of about 100 determined men came to town, went to the jail, took Alexander Richardson out, placed him on horseback and took him to a railroad bridge one mile from town, where they hanged him.

Not a word was spoken either by the prisoner or the mob until after the arrival at the railroad bridge, when he was asked if he wanted to make any statement.

He said: "Gentlemen I am not guilty of this crime. If you hang me you will hang an innocent man."

When fixing the rope on he told them not to worry him by choking, but to hang him quickly off. He was hanged at 12:15 this morning and then the crowd quieted off.

The crime for which Richardson was hanged, was committed Sunday afternoon near Irvine. Mrs. Wiley White had been to Fairview, a distance of about two miles from her residence, in Estill county, and was returning home by a path in the woods when she was struck from behind with a club. When the woman was found her brains had been nearly beaten out. Richardson was arrested, charged with the murder.

Chitwood Will Run.

As Paducah is the political Mecca of the district, whatever news that comes from there may be accepted as true; hence the following from the Daily Dispatch is straight goods:

The Republicans will have a candidate for Congress. The necessary steps have been taken and the name of Mr. W. J. Chitwood, of Kuttawa, will go on the ballot at the November election.

Mr. W. J. Sayer yesterday mailed certified copies of a petition containing the names of 540 citizens residing in eight counties of the First district, to all the county clerks, asking that Mr. Chitwood's name be placed on the official ballot as a candidate for congress under the Republican emblem.

The petitioners are in accordance with the provisions of section 65 of the election law and are equivalent to a nomination.

Mr. Chitwood is a well known citizen of Kuttawa and a prosperous merchant of that place. He was in the revenue service for a time under Collector Feland's administration.

Personally he is very popular with the masses of the Republican party, and will poll a good majority of the party to him.

Capitalists are investigating the practicability of building a railroad from Marion to Smithland and on to Paducah. The investigation so far is only of a superficial character, a general preliminary survey of the field at long range. While nothing may ever come of the project, less inviting enterprises have terminated successfully. Such a road would go through a splendid country—a country which is only partially developed—a country with great agricultural resources, and a country that certainly has great mineral possibilities.

A railroad built through that territory would make it blossom like the rose of Sharon. It occurs to us that Crittenden Springs, Levia, and Sheridans, Salem, Hampton and drowsy old Smithland would rejoice beyond measure and sing together like the stars of the morning, even in the contemplation of such a thing.

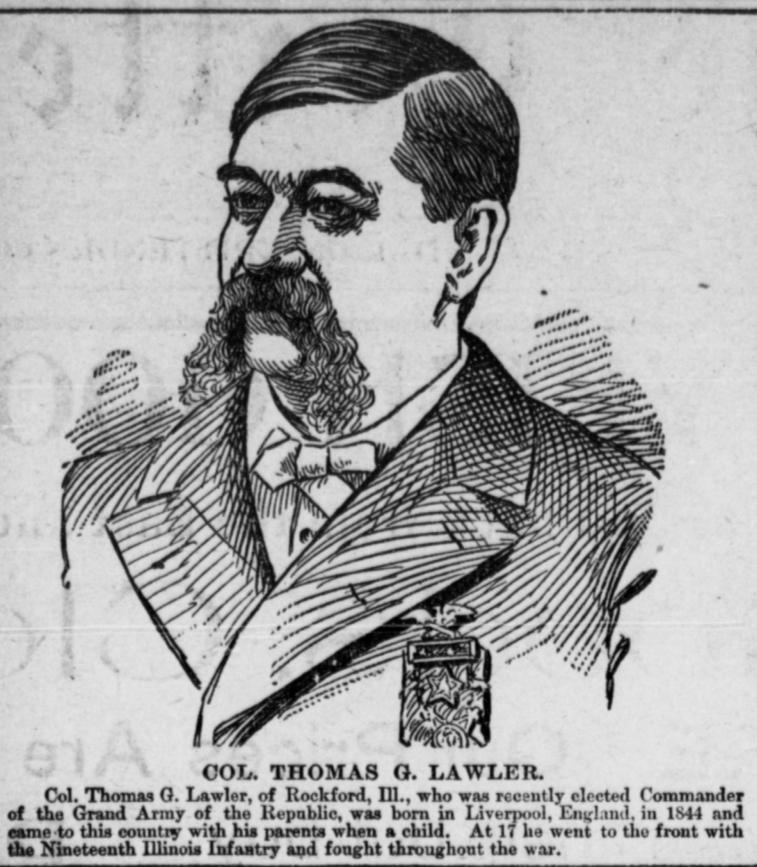

Stranger things have happened.

Messrs. E. T. Franks and Joe Parker addressed a fair size audience at the court house Monday. Ed, still a red-hot, rip-roaring Republican, who can see nothing good outside of his own party, while Joe is a Populist who believes there is no guile in the party he represents. The boys are fair speakers in their way, and if the press was big enough it would not attempt to place any of the laurels from their brows, for they will be older after awhile, and get out of the two year old class.

SHADY GROVE.

Jack Frost is with us.

Died, Oct. 5th, an infant of Shee Coleman; its remains were deposited at the Shady Grove cemetery Saturday.

Friends weep not for infants sweet for they in Jesus sleep.

Rev. Henry and Gregston closed their meeting the 3d with great success. Eight joined the church and were baptised Thursday.

Married, at the residence of the bride's mother, Lee Wilson to Miss Hubbard, Rev. Gregston officiating.

Married, at the residence of the bride's father, Z. F. Davis to Miss Etta Riggs, Rev. Henry officiating; may joy and peace be with them.

Marion was well supplied with the Shady Grove boys Monday; D. J. Hubbard, S. A. Frazier, R. H. Word and James Edmundson; all on important business.

W. M. Asher, of Weston, is in town today.

Rev. W. H. Archey remains on this circuit; we are glad the work is committed to him again.

SHERIDAN

We have two interesting meetings

—Bros. Blackburn and Gibbs are holding services at Deer Creek and Eros.

Millikan and Murphy are at Glendale.

There has been several conversations at the latter place and the interest is great.

G. A. Terry is able to be up again, but his daughter, Miss Maggie, is dangerously sick with typhoid fever.

W. R. Thomas has a new boy at his house, and while the little fellow does not weigh the traditional nine pounds, he is a jolly little man and weighs just 3½ lbs.

We have had frost, but we have no slow farmers and no tobacco was caught.

Mr. A. M. Paris is with his sick brother, Dr. Paris, of Levia. The latter can live but a few days; he is unconscious.

Wm. Goode in Town.

Wm. Goode was in town yesterday afternoon. It was not, however, the tall, drop-shouldered, long mustached, mountaineer, with deep set keen eyes, careless carriage, who is accused of a whole lot of devilment in the hills Mines country, and who was wanted by a mob of unknown people a few nights ago. It was Wm. Goode, Jr., a son of the old man, and he is a boy of eighteen, small for his age, intelligent and pleasant in conversation and not a bit vicious in appearance. The family is still residing at the poor-house, and so far as he knows will remain there until the end of their lease in January. His father says he is in Union county. The young man was born in Boyle county and thinks his father is a native of the upper part of the State. The boy says he was a home each of the three times when the mob visited the farm in search of his father; their faces were blacked and he had not the least idea who any of them were.

Burglarized.

Tuesday night Dr. W. J. Deboe, of this place, was robbed of $63 in clean, cold cash. He left his pocket book containing the money in his pants pocket, and put his pants on a chair near his bed. Next morning the clothes were there all right, but the pocket book was missing. It was found in the yard, but the money was missing this time, and it is likely that it has taken an indefinite leave of absence. The thief entered a window, which had not been securely locked, into a room in which there was no one, and passing through an unlocked door easily got access to the sleeping apartment and picked the pockets. He was considerate enough, however, to leave a handsome gold watch in the vest pocket.

Orme-Wilson.

At 7:30 yesterday Mr. Lee Orme, of Uniontown, and Miss Annie Wilson, of this place, were happily united in marriage. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Dell Wilson, Rev. M. H. Miley officiating. The parlor was beautifully decorated with white roses, evergreens and autumn leaves, presenting a lovely appearance. Quite a number of friends of both parties witnessed the ceremony that united the two happy young people. Mr. Orme and bride left on the eight o'clock train for St. Louis, where they will spend some days before returning to their home in Union county. They carry with them the best wishes of a large circle of acquaintances in Marion. The bride received many handsome presents.

Mr. J. J. Scott, recently returned from Kansas, was in town yesterday.

He went to Kansas in March and planted one hundred acres of corn;

the drouth came and cut it very short;

and not an ear of corn did he gather, but speedily sold out and returned to his native health. In 1890 Mr. Scott went to Kansas and put out one hundred acres of corn; the hot winds took it, too. He says he has paid about $800 to see the Kansas elephant, and has seen all that he wants at that or any other price.

Little Sadie Thomas, daughter of Mrs. Carr Thomas, of this place, happened to a sal accident at the home of her aunt, Mrs. B. A. Whitlock, near Paducah, Ky. Mrs. Thomas had gone down to be at the marriage of one of her nieces, and expected to return, but on account of the accident perhaps will not be able to return for some days.

J. P. Pierce went to Union county yesterday to have a conference of a business nature with the late William Hurley.

NOTHING NEW.

The Berry Rich Affair Still Enveloped in Mystery.

There has been no further developments in the lamentable Berry Rich affair; nothing whatever has been uncovered to lead to the discovery of those who composed the mob, and nothing will probably ever be known.

It is the opinion of a good many people that it was not the intention of that mob to kill Rich; that an effort was being made to force him into information relative to Goode, and that his endurance was overtaxed and he died before his tormentors were aware of the fact. A good many people think the mob, or a very large per cent of it, was from an adjoining county.

Bloodhounds the Thing.

The Earlington Bee says: "Wm. Carrico, a farmer living about two miles north of Madisonville, on the Henderson road, discovered one of his outbuildings to be on fire Saturday evening, just in time to put out the flames before serious damage had been done. One haystack, however, was entirely consumed. Several times before attempts had been made to burn his house, and other buildings by some unknown person or persons. Never did suspicion rest upon any one, and Mr. Carrico, to catch the guilty party that time, if at all possible, hurried to Earlington to get Marshal Barnett and his pack of bloodhounds. In three hours after the fire was discovered and the flames extinguished the dogs were on the scene, and soon struck the trail of the supposed-to-be destroyer of Mr. Carrico's property. The dogs followed the trail given them to the house of a neighbor less than a mile away. The thief entered a window, which had not been securely locked, into a room in which there was no one, and passing through an unlocked door easily got access to the sleeping apartment and picked the pockets. He was considerate enough, however, to leave a handsome gold watch in the vest pocket.

Permanently Located.

The Presbyterian church at this place will, in the near future, formally install Rev. M. H. Miley as its permanent pastor. When this is done, the relations as pastor and church can not be dissolved except by presidency. The formal call which has been accepted reads as follows:

The congregation of Marion Presbyterian church, being on sufficient grounds well satisfied of the Ministerial qualifications of you, W. H. Miley, and having good hopes, from our past experience of your labors, that your ministrations in the Gospel will be profitable to our spiritual interests, do earnestly call and desire you to undertake the pastoral office in said congregation; promising you, in the discharge of your duty, all proper support, encouragement and obedience in the Lord, and that you may be free from worldly cares and avocations, we hereby promise and oblige ourselves to pay to you the sum of one thousand dollars in regular monthly payments, during the time of your being and continuing the regular pastor of this church, in testimony whereof we have respectively subscribed our names, this 4th day of Oct. 1894.

Meet Me There.

Thursday there was what Sam Jones called a military wedding in town. Harvey Hughes and Roxy Ann Hughes are a colored pair of the northern end of the county. A short time ago Roxy Ann had a warrant issued charging Harvey with having seduced her under promise of marriage. Officer Pickens went down and took Harvey in charge. In coming to town the officer, at Harvey's request, came by the home of Roxy Ann; Harvey stopped and said to the victim of his deception, "Dis here officer am a taken me to do cote house; if you is bent on marryin' me, why meet me there." Harvey had not remained under the roof of the temple of justice but a few minutes when Roxy Ann put in her appearance and a wedding occurred without any flourishing of trumpets or superfluity of ceremony, and even the absence of cake and flowers was observed.

HOLMES IS DEAD.

The Venerable Poet's Life Ended Yesterday.

At His Town House in Boston, Shortly After Noon.

Boston, Oct. 7.—Oliver Wendell Holmes is dead. Without the semblance of a struggle or a pain he passed away as he lived, peacefully and beautifully.

The end came at 12:10 o'clock this afternoon, at the venerable poet's town house. He was surrounded by his children and visibly conscious of their presence up to within a few minutes of the last, though unable to speak. Then he closed his eyes wearily and seemed to fall asleep—as indeed he did—the sleep of death at which the whole world will mourn.

Dr. Holmes came from his summer home at Beverly farms ten days ago and while not quite in his accustomed health at that time did not regard himself as ill nor was he so regarded by his children and friends. For several years he has been a sufferer from asthma, and the day after his return to Boston he had a particularly severe attack of his malady. This was the beginning of the end. Dr. Holmes never left his bed again, for while the asthma was conquered it left him in such a weakened condition that he never rallied.

Gradually and calmly he approached the dark river. Gradually and peacefully he waited for the end, knowing full well that it was near, for the doctor told the sufferer a week ago that it must come. Dr. Putnam had been the Holmes family physician many years, and knew his patient well. His practiced eye saw the gradual breaking up which others could not see. Never robust, Dr. Holmes lived to the great age he did through having taken the best of care of himself at all times. Dr. Putnam knew that when the final illness did come that it would not last long. His last call on his patient was made at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. At that hour he found him little changed, except for the ever growing weakness, so gradual and insidious in its work that even Dr. Putnam did not apprehend that the end was so near until a day or so ago. On the strength of this the doctor went to Weymouth to attend to a patient, first arranging with his brother, Dr. James Putnam, to call upon his patient during the afternoon. It was not until nearly noon that the attendant and family noticed any decided change in his condition. This was in the form of an unusual exhaustion and almost before any stimulating Dr. Holmes had become partially unconscious, his breath came shorter and shorter, and within the brief space of a quarter of an hour the great poet that all the world has loved was no more.

Tonight the serenity and peace that always characterized the home of the poet, was found about the house in which he lay dead, but none of the family was to be seen. Save for the faint, sweet odor of flowers which pervaded the entire place, there was not one thing to suggest a house of mourning.

Oliver Wendell Holmes was born at Cambridge, Mass., August 29, 1809. He was graduated at Harvard college in 1829 and began the study of law, which he subsequently abandoned for that of medicine.

GOOD BY TO HOPE.

Negroes of the Ashland District Protest Against Denny.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 4.—Judge George Denny, Jr., the Republican candidate for Congress, is a bitter pill for the negroes. He said in one of his big speeches some years ago, "The negro race is a millstone about the neck of the Republican party." His colored brethren held an enthusiastic meeting here last night protesting against Denny for Congress and have announced that they will hold meetings weekly till all the negroes are thoroughly aroused against him.

The Republican vote in the Ashland district is more than half cast by negroes and Denny will not carry one third of them. The attendance at the protest meeting last night was large and the effect will be felt by the Republicans. Some members of the party here are saying openly that they made a fatal mistake in nominating Denny.

SNOW.

And a Blizzard Accompanies the Beautiful.

Minneapolis, Minn., October 7.—North Dakota, portions of South Dakota, and the Northern borders of Minnesota, are tonight buried under a heavy snow. The storm, which in some localities has developed into a blizzard, began this morning and every indication points to a repetition of the blizzard of 14 years ago.

IS AGAINST IT.

Cardinal Gibbons Preaches Against Woman Suffrage.

He Says the Proper Sphere of Woman is Home.

Baltimore, Oct. 7.—Cardinal Gibbons preached this morning at the cathedral on the glory of womanhood and against woman suffrage.

"It seems to me fearful to contemplate what would have been the condition of society to-day if it had not been for the restraining, sanctification and purification of woman," said his eminence. "I speak of those women who make no vow except the baptismal one; who wear habit except the white robe of innocence, and not of those who wear the royal robe of charity and benevolence. I speak of the mother of the household. If to-day woman is esteemed as peer of her husband and not as the slave of his passions, as is the case in Oriental countries, it is due to the church. If she is queen in her domestic kingdom, without being confronted with usurping women, as in the case in Mohammedan and Mormon households, she is indebted for this deliverance to the teachings of the Catholic church and of the pope. The church follows the teachings of Saint Paul, that woman is equal to man when he declares that God makes no distinction as to nationality, race or sex.

"It is true woman does not exercise the right of suffrage. She cannot vote, and I am heartily glad of it. I hope the day will never come when she can vote, and if the right of suffrage is granted to her I hope she will reject, even though there are some misguided women who think they want it. Least assured, if woman enters politics she will be sure to carry away on her some of the mud and dirt of political contact. She will also lose some of the influence which now is hers. The proper sphere of woman is home; the proper place for her to reign is in the home circles. A ruler of Greece said:

"I command Athens; Athens rules the world and my wife controls me; therefore she rules the world."

"So nowadays, you men control the United States with your votes and your wives controlling you, they rule this country.

PRESS CENSORSHIP.

China and Japan, it is Said, Edit The War News to Suit Themselves.

San Francisco, Oct. 5.—J. S. Van Burch, agent for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company at Hong Kong, was one of the passengers on the steamer Gaelic. He says it is impossible to get any reliable news of the war at any place in the Orient. All news from Hong Kong comes by way of Shanghai, and as the government controls the wires, all information concerning engagements between the two contending forces is garbled to suit the Chinese authorities. The news obtainable at Yokohama is no more satisfactory, as it is modified or exaggerated to suit the ideas of the Japanese authorities. "I am credibly informed," he said, "that the correspondents who are following the Japanese army were only permitted to do so under an agreement that their correspondence should be submitted to the Japanese authorities for revision, and I was startled to learn at Yokohama that letters sent by the officers of the United States ship Baltimore to their families, while the vessel was at Chefoo, were inspected by the Japanese. The letters necessarily had to go by way of Yokohama and the Japanese read the letters for fear that they might be detrimental to the cause of Japan."

BREAK IN SUGAR.

The Combine Busted and Prices Go Down.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Beginning tomorrow morning a war in sugar prices will be inaugurated by the wholesale grocers of Chicago. Last May the grocers formed an organization to insure a uniform profit in sugar. Last Friday a circular was mailed to all the members of the association, notifying them that after October 8 the rules of practice of the association will be suspended indefinitely, which meant the abandonment of the combination. The cause for this action was the condition of stocks, almost every jobber and wholesale dealer being loaded to the brim with sugar. With the new crop coming in within a few weeks, they would be swamped in attempting to carry such a load.

The prediction is made that the price of sugar during the coming week will reach the lowest point in many years.

BROKE HIS NECK.

Five Men Jailed at Russellville For a Brutal Murder.

Russellville, Ky., Oct. 4.—Deputy Sheriff James T. Grimes and Wister Clark brought in five men last night, from the north end of the county, charged with the murder of James Lambert, whose body was found floating in Mud river, three miles from this city, on April 17. Upon examination Lambert's neck was found broken, skull crushed, and other marks of violence were visible on his body, and there was every indication that he had been murdered and thrown in the river.

The names of the men charged with Lambert's murder are Tom, Lay and Ike Tinsley, Malcolm McThail and Virgil Cox. The three Tinsleys are brothers-in-law of Lambert. The cases against these men are said to be very strong ones. Their arrest was the result of an investigation by the grand jury, which closed it labor yesterday. Eleven men were indicted by the grand jury at this term of the circuit court charged with murder.

Blasts From the Rams Horn.

Christians ought to be willing to work as hard to get people to go to church as they do to get voters to go to the polls.

An unjust man is an abomination to the just; and he that is upright is abomination to the wicked.

There are people who do not want to call the devil by his right name for fear they will offend a friend.

Endeavor to so live that your enemies will have to admit that you got your religion from Christ.

At the end of life we shall find out that the only things we have lost are those we tried to keep.

Remembering the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

For fully two years, I suffered from rheumatism, and was frequently in such a condition that I could hardly walk. I spent some time in Hot Springs, Ark., and the treatment helped me for the time being; but soon the complaint returned and I was as badly afflicted as ever. Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended. I tried to try it, and, after using six bottles, I was completely cured."—P. H. Ford, Quachita City, La.

Guaranteed Cure.

We authorize our advertising drugs to sell Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, upon this condition. If you are afflicted with a cold, cold, or lung, throat or chest trouble, and will use this remedy as directed, giving it a fair trial, and experience no benefit, you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We could not make this offer did we not know that Dr. King's New Discovery could be relied on. It never disappoints. Trial bottles free at H. K. Woods drug store. Large size $1.00.

A Quarter Century Ago.

For a quarter of a century Dr. King's New Discovery has been tested and the millions who have received benefit from its use testify to its wonderful curative powers in all diseases of throat, chest and lungs. A remedy that has stood the test so long and that has given so universal satisfaction is no experiment. Each bottle is positively guaranteed to give relief, or the money will be refunded. It is admitted to be the most reliable for coughs and colts. Trial bottles free at H. K. Woods drug store. Large size $1.00.

ELECTROPOISE.

CURES DISEASE.

The Electropoise gave me complete relief from excretating pain in three applications. I also find it good for treating children for their numerous ailments.—C. T. Soden, with Bridgeford & Co., Louisville.

Mr. G. W. Flint, of Skylight, Ky., says: I suffered for years with my kidneys, inflammation of the bladder and enlargement of the prostate gland. After a short trial of the Electropoise I am entirely relieved and feel twenty years younger.

I have derived more benefit from the use of Electropoise than from all other remedies combined. I think it the grandest invention of the age. It can not be praised too highly.—Mrs. M. E. Gorman, Sadieville, Ky., August.

Jesus did not preach deliverance from sin until he had himself resisted the tempter.

The devil is no so much concerned about our profession as he is about our practice.

On the day when we have not done a little good we have done a great deal of mischief.

There is no more dangerous deception than self-deception.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's cough remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after cough has developed, it will prevent the attack; 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Moore & Orme.

Horses for Sale.

I am overstocked with horses and vehicles, and offer for sale 10 good horses and a number of buggies and spring wagons, on 12 month's time, very low.

I guarantee the to be just as I represent. If not sold privately, will sell at auction next county court.

Come and get a bargain.

W. D. Wallingford.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it was intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balsm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about a third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate attention before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when the Pain Balsm is kept on hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious, a troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by Moore & Orme.
